

Chris Marlin '94 | Elected Director

Chris Marlin '94 serves as an advisor and Director to ClimateAlpha.ai, an AI-driven advisory service that leverages machine learning algorithms to predict real estate values. Marlin also serves as Director of The Atlantic Council (Washington), a member of the Global Future Council on Cities at the World Economic Forum (Geneva), and as a member of the Boao Forum for Asia (Beijing). Marlin founded Lennar International, a subsidiary of Lennar Corporation (NYSE:LEN).

At UCF, he served as SGA president ('93-'94) and an adjunct professor of Constitutional Law and is presently a Community Fellow at the UCF Center for Global Economics and Environmental Opportunity.

He earned his JD from Emory University School of Law in Atlanta.